Juror

Catherine D. Anspion

Since 1998, Ms. Anspion has covered the Texas art scene for PaperCity Magazine, joining the influential lifestyle monthly full-time as the Visual Arts Editor in 2004 (and now serves as an Executive Editor). Her responsibilities include all arts reporting, exhibition reviews, museum openings, artist profiles, and market reporting for Dallas and Houston desks.

Along the way, this Pittsburgh native has surveyed and penned coverage from breathtaking new museum buildings to artist studios, traversed Art Basel Miami Beach and all the Texas art fairs, and has traveled from the Houston Museum District to Shanghai and recently, Moscow in pursuit of art and cultural stories.

Holding a Rice University B.A. in Art History and History, with an M.A. in Art History from the University of Missouri, Ms. Anspion also serves as the Houston correspondent for ARTnews and has written features and reported for Art & Antiques, as well as Art & Auction, Art in America, Glasstire, and Spot Magazine.

She is also the author of exhibition catalog essays and has curated shows for a number of Houston galleries, as well as serving as a juror.

In 2010, Anspion published her first book, Texas Artists Today, highlighting 62 contemporary Texas talents in studio (Marquand Books). This survey — now sold out — marked the first book in a decade to document the vibrant, significant art scene in Texas. Volume Two is now in the works.
